

MichaelSilver is extremely proud to share that the firm is celebrating its 75th anniversary.

Founded in 1944, MichaelSilver quickly earned a reputation for providing unsurpassed accounting and tax services. The firm's early success was the direct result of commitment to client service and the expert application of accounting principles and tax law. Today, 75 years later and under the leadership of Larry Isaacson and Jennifer A. Barliant, these principles continue to thrive within the firm. These principles, along with the firm's commitment to its employees and exceptional service, are driven by the firm's foundational pillars: to be innovative, trusted, consultative, and energizing.

Throughout its history, MichaelSilver has shared its success by giving back and supporting numerous community projects and programs including women and youth groups, veteran organizations, child literacy programs, community celebrations, and more. This year alone, the firm has actively participated in events for Feed My Starving Children, Project Hero's Honor Ride Chicago, and WTTW, Chicago's public broadcasting network.

"Things have changed a lot in 75 years, however, one thing that has remained constant is our commitment to exceptional service," says Jennifer A. Barliant, Managing Partner. "We are looking forward to the future and to building more life-long business and personal relationships with our clients, their businesses, employees, and families."

Pictured left to right: Managing Partners Jennifer A Barliant and Larry Isaacson, and of course head of their International Team, Steve Handler.

